

ADJFA CODES OF CONDUCT

Aberdeen and District Juvenile Football Association

Introduction

Football is a fantastic game, and it gives a great deal of fun and pleasure to players, club officials, parents and spectators alike.

We all have a responsibility to 'Respect Our Game' and follow the laws of the game to allow the game to be played properly, fairly and in a true sporting manner.

The ADJFA, members and all involved have a responsibility to promote high standards of behavior by providing a more enjoyable playing environment.

We invite clubs to promote the codes of conduct to help take a positive step towards improving behaviour on our touchlines and teaching young people to respect their team-mates, opponents, rules, officials, and themselves.

Our Roles and Responsibilities

Club Officials, coaches, parents, spectators, referees, volunteers and players all have a role in developing a positive football culture.

By involving the whole community, we inspire all, to set new standards and have a positive impact on their involvement with young people in football.

Working together we can encourage a cultural shift in football in Scotland to inspire young people to reach their potential in football and life.

We ALL have a responsibility to encourage all club officials, coaches, players, parents and spectators to follow the codes of conduct, to respect our game and deliver a consistent level of respect and sportsmanship for everyone involved in football.
